ISO 14001 certification: sites that are committed to the environment
In order to improve how we manage the impact of our activities on the environment, our sites embarked on an ISO 14001 certification process. This was obtained in February 2013. ISO 14001 is based on an internationally recognised standard for environmental management, and the aim is to continuously and sustainably reduce the environmental impact of our business.

HQE™ certification
HQE™ certification is a French approach relating to construction that aims to limit environmental impact in the short and long term, while ensuring a building design that is fit for purpose for the user and environmentally friendly.

LEED® NC label
The LEED® NC label is the most established label at the international level. It builds on the HQE objectives for buildings and extends them to the immediate environment of the project: reduction in light pollution, alternatives to vehicle use, water-efficient landscaping, waste management, recycling of materials, etc.

The Exhibition Centre is one of the largest in France. It has a fully modular 40,000 m² exhibition hall divisible into 7 halls and a 14,000 m² central street, leading to a 25,000 m² outdoor exhibition area. It is also equipped with two mezzanines, bringing real originality and complementarity to the building.
The Convention Centre, on the same site, complements the Exhibition Centre. It is designed on two levels, can accommodate business events for up to 10,000 people. This fully modular venue can accommodate a plenary session at the same time, as well as offering a set-up based on a variety of styles: workshops, catering and exhibitions.
